

THIS WEEK

13th June, 2008

A big thank you to everyone who has sent kind words, cards and flowers after the funeral of Pilar's father last weekend. Your friendship means more to us than words can say.

ripples of opportunity to serve

The inner circle represents our trustees, our elders, who govern the movement and keep us out of debt, out of the press and out of prison. Adrian Masters is the new Interim Chairman of the DCI Trust which gives Les greater freedom to lead the movement.

If you are interested in being a DCI trustee then write to Adrian who will shortly be hosting a short series of really good training sessions.

The middle circle represents Les, Pilar and the team at home who keep everyone and everything going, and the outer circles represent all our partners who are "hands-on" doing evangelism, church planting, training and blessing the poor. You would be welcome to start a project too.

THE OUTER CIRCLE IN INDIA LAST WEEK

Its a training day for pastors led by Ajmad Missal who travelled 450 kms to the meeting. He provided their travel fares, food, beds, pens, and notebooks.

They ate on leaves and sat on the ground. Many of these pastors lost all they had including their buildings in the recent Orissa wave of persecution.

Our partner in Pakistan, Sarwar, would like to invite a speaker for his October conference. We are hoping to restart our German pages shortly thanks to Michael in Switzerland who has offered to take on the job. We are hoping that Magdy in Egypt will restart the Arabic pages and we have Mario in Guatemala who is offering to do the Italian pages and Gwendy in Venezuela wants to help with the Spanish pages.

Debora from Barcelona is going to Peru in August, Michelle from Nottingham is going to Burkina Faso in November, and so is Jonathan from Cheltenham. Travelling companions are welcome.

The next DCI Monday is July 14th for a meal together at 7pm followed by worship and ministry to the Lord and He to us from 8 till 9pm. Please let us know that you are definitely coming so we can plan the catering.
