

WORLD CHRISTIANS

La Red Mundial de Creyentes

Le Réseau Mondial des Chrétiens

Since 1987 DCI has been growing as a busy network of leaders and people from a wide variety of churches, cultures and backgrounds stretching across five continents.

Network means “to meet people, make contacts, exchange ideas and to interact together.”

You can see our ideas and activities on the other side of this paper. Everything is always free to all and without strings.

The original founders 20 years ago were Les Norman from Nottingham and his wife Pilar who is Spanish and a very popular Christian poet in her language. Today nearly all the work happens in the developing world with trusted local leaders taking full responsibility.

We would love you to bring your skills, prayer and giving to this network for the lost, the last and the least of the world.

Our Free diploma level Bible School in 16 languages has no walls, no frontiers and no fees.

Thousands of students in the developing world go on to open new churches, new Bible Schools and to visit unreached peoples.

The Bank for the Poor in Africa and India gives interest-free micro-loans of money, goats or cows to widows, orphans and poor families to create small businesses that provide income for living and for giving.

Since 1987 The DCI Trust has provided bikes, buildings, books, camels, childcare, clothes, computers, farms, films, food, medicines, seeds, schools, spectacles, tools, travel, wheelchairs, water, workshops and wells in the developing world.

The 2004 World Christmas Party will give refugees, disabled people, slum children and lepers in Africa and Asia a day to remember with food, music, drama and gifts to take home, to celebrate the coming of Jesus.

World Christian News on the Internet brings eye-witness reports and gives the poor a voice. Our 1,500 page website in 6 languages has received around 6,000,000 visits.
