Thousands of students in the developing world go on to open new churches, new Bible Schools and to visit unreached peoples.

The Bank for the Poor in Africa and India gives interest-free micro-loans of money, goats or cows to widows, orphans and poor families to create small businesses that provide income for living and for giving.

Since 1987 The DCI Trust has provided bikes, buildings, books, camels, childcare, clothes, computers, farms, films, food, medicines, seeds,
schools, spectacles, tools, travel, wheelchairs, water, workshops and wells in the developing world.

The 2004 World Christmas Party will give refugees, disabled people, slum children and lepers in Africa and Asia a day to remember with food, music, drama and gifts to take home, to celebrate the coming of Jesus.
